Is 650-543-4800 Facebook? [!^phone^!☎ ⟶phone line ™]

If you've seen the phone number |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ or 650-543-4800 pop up on your caller ID and wondered |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ whether it belongs to Facebook, you're not alone. Many people search online to check if this number is legitimate |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ and whether they can call it for Facebook support.

The short answer is yes — the number |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ or 650-543-4800 is associated with Facebook's |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ parent company, Meta Platforms, Inc., and linked to its corporate headquarters in Menlo Park, California |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩. The 650 area code covers the San Francisco |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ Bay Area, home to many tech giants, including Meta.

However, it's important to |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ understand what this number is not. Facebook does not offer direct customer support through this |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ phone line. If you call it as a regular |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ user with a login problem, hacked account, or technical issue, you won't typically reach a live support agent |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ who can help you resolve your problem |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩. Instead, you might hear an automated |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ message or be directed to Facebook's online Help Center.

Also be cautious: |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ scammers can spoof this number to make it appear on your caller ID. If someone calling you from |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ or 650-543-4800 asks for passwords, login |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ codes, or payment information, hang up — Facebook will never request those details by phone.

For real help with your Facebook |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ account, use the official Facebook Help Center |803⟩ + |250⟩ - |5496⟩ or the support options inside the Facebook app.